

TANDEM INSTRUCTOR LEVY (for passengers over 100kg)

Skydive Auckland operate a 100kg weight restriction for tandem skydiving, however under certain circumstances it is possible for passengers over 100kg to skydive. The assessment on whether you will be permitted to skydive is made by an instructor and is based on a number of factors including:

- Height/weight ratio
- General health and fitness
- Comfort
- Flexibility / range of motion
- Ability to fit in the tandem harness
- Weather conditions on the day

Tandem skydiving can be suitable for some people who weigh more than 100kg, however there are extra considerations which must be taken into account, particularly the additional strain, stresses and forces on your skydiving instructor. Due to this, Skydive Auckland instructors' charge an additional $50 fee for any passengers over 100kg who wish to partake in this activity.

Please note:

- Not all our instructors can or are willing to take passengers over 100kg
- In some cases, special equipment is required to take passengers over 100kg
- In certain weather conditions, instructors may choose not to take a passenger over 100kg
- Our reception team are not qualified to assess if a passenger over 100kg is suitable to skydive. This decision can only be made by the instructor.
- Not every person over 100kg is suitable to skydive. If your instructor declines, it is in the interest of safety.

If you wish to partake in a tandem skydive and would like one of our instructors to assess if you are suitable, please advise reception. The additional $50 tandem instructor levy will be due upon payment of your skydive and Skydive Auckland passes this payment directly onto your instructor.

Thank you.
